The North Gwillimbury branch of the Red Cross would like the names and addresses of soldiers from the township who are overseas. Readers are asked to please send this information to Miss Ella L. SIR WILLIAM RECALLS HIS BOYHOOD HERE

SO LIVE THAT YOU WILL HAVE NO REGRETS, IS ADVICE

VISITS PICKERING

Students of Pickering College had a grand time when Sir William Mulock, K. C. M. G., was guest of honor at a college dinner on Tuesday evening.

In a short address of reminiscence and advice Sir William mixed jest and instruction. Following the dinner and short speeches by Samuel Rogers, K. C., Toronto, the chairman, and himself, Sir William presented individual metal mirror-plaques to all members of the school.

The plaques were inscribed with the words of Etienne de Grellet, a Quaker: "I shall pass through this world but once; any good thing therefore that I can do or any kindness that I can show to any human being, let me do it now, let me not defer it, or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."

Among others at the head table were Headmaster Joseph McCutley, Mrs. Rogers, Andrew J. Davis, Assistant Headmaster E. K. Rourke and Mrs. Rourke, and Eric Veale, Toronto, a member of the board of governors.

"What more beautiful picture is there than the faces of happy youth?" began Sir William. "You are fortunate to have selected this school. It is a unique institution in Canada. Its success is well deserved, and is due not only to the headmaster but also to the teachers he has selected to help him."

Saying that Mr. McCutley had urged him to tell some local reminiscences, Sir William told about "the ground I am standing on at this moment."

"My mother and sisters and I lived on Pearson St.," Sir William said. "We kept a cow. It was my duty to take the cow to pasture, which was where this building is now standing. There was a snake fence dividing the fields. The cow was in a field with other cows. I saw with them a deer. I thought I would take possession of the deer. I would drive it home with the cow, but the deer did not respond to my views and jumped over a fence. I don't know if it has stopped running yet."

"The boys who lived on Garbutt hill, north of the pond, looked down on the mere villagers, and often after school we would fight the villagers."

"In the pond I learned to like fishing. We used to see bass stealing along by the bank. Many a one I caught."

"On Garbutt hill I saw what no eye here has seen, oxen being shod. A leather belt was put under the oxen and then a rod overhead was wound up and the ox lifted off his feet. He was then hors de combat and was shod."

"I am happy to welcome the boys from England who are here. We are proud to be presided over by such a magnificent country as Britain. When the war ends satisfactorily, as it doubtless will, and you go home, take with you happy memories of Canada. Come again, but not under such dreadful circumstances."

"So live that you will have in later life nothing but happy memories."

He commended to the boys the words of de Grellet, "the sentiment of a man beloved by all who came in touch with him."

Mr. Rogers, chairman of the Pickering College board, said that Sir William had laid the college cornerstone in 1908, when he was "a mere boy in his early sixties."

"If You Have 1,200 Circulation, Prove It..."

What does membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations mean? Why should a weekly newspaper prove and improve its circulation through the A.B.C.?

Ellis Millard, advertising manager of the Ford Motor Co. of Canada and incidentally descended from the pioneer Newmarket Millard family, told members of the Ontario-Quebec division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association in session at Hamilton:

"If you buy a dozen eggs, you count them. If you buy a pound of sugar you want it weighed. If we buy advertising we want to know what we are getting. We are the people who are paying for it."

"What is more, that is the way all other national advertisers feel."

"If you have 1,200 circulation, prove it."

"And I will tell you how much I think of A.B.C. This year after I made up my advertising schedule I said: 'I'm going to double the space in all those A.B.C. weeklies.' And that's what I did."

"Joining the A.B.C. is the finest thing you can do to improve your newspaper."

BIRNIE KNOWS HESS!

Birnie Hodgetts, former Pickering college history teacher, took a group of Canadian lads to Germany in 1936 and found that instead of having a pleasant trip the boys were billeted at a barbed-wire enclosed military camp and expected to take and like the harsh Nazi discipline. Birnie's protests reached Hess' official ear and he was given an interview with the Nazi chief as a result of which the students were excused from taking part in the exercises. Hess protested against Nazi discipline this week by flying "one-way" to Britain.

ADDRESSES WEEKLIES

"Britain has no near neighbors on the continent of Europe to look to for supplies and assistance," Hon. Angus L. Macdonald, minister of national defence for naval services, told members of the Ontario-Quebec division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association at Hamilton on Friday. "She is compelled to cast her eyes over the great oceans to her dominions and to her distant friends—above all, to that great friend, the United States."

"Help can come to her only after much journeying and many perils of waters. We must have ships and more ships to carry that help to Britain and to hold off the invader from that island. We must have planes and still more planes to meet the German threat to Britain from the air. These are the first need of the perilous times in which we live."

"The issue of this struggle will depend on the number and quality of ships, planes, guns and tanks that we can furnish, and the speed with which we can provide them. If all goes well in these matters we shall triumph decisively, for in human courage and in human skill, and in our sense of the righteousness of our cause, we are incomparably stronger than the enemy. What we need, in the words of the prime minister of England, are 'the tools of war.' Given these we shall finish the job."

BEER AGITATION ISN'T PATRIOTIC, IS OPINION

"Country people are very much concerned about the agitation for increased sale of alcoholic beverages in Newmarket," Mrs. Elmer Starr, Pleasantville, convenor of the committee for childhood and youth of the North York Temperance Federation, stated to The Era this week.

"We feel that it greatly affects the country people even if they don't have any vote about it," she added.

"Any increase in beverage alcohol consumption will greatly decrease the efficiency of soldiers and civilians. It is not in the interests of economy in any way, or in the interests of the country. The agitation is therefore anything but patriotic."

Dales Challenges Reeve To Medical Relief Investigation

Dr. Dales States Inquest Brought Reform,
Says He Can Call Witnesses To Prove Statements

Dr. L. W. Dales of Newmarket gave The Era the following statement in reply to a statement from Reeve Stanley Osborne of East Gwillimbury township last week, following a malnutrition death inquest.

"It seems necessary to reply to the purely political letter in last week's Era signed by Mr. Osborne. Every statement I made is true and can be proven, and so the only possible conclusion in the matter are:

"(1) That the Reeve has not known what has been going on in his own municipality for four years;

"(2) That he still doesn't want to learn the facts (I discovered that in 1937 when I gave him a copy of the act and explained to him then that all relief patients may choose their own physicians without interference—the racket I referred to began that year); or

"(3) That he has not stated the truth.

"He of necessity must claim ignorance or be an accessory both before and after the fact, which in plain English means aiding an illegal situation and covering up afterwards. It is rather unusual for a Reeve to deny what is general knowledge to the relief recipients in his own township."

"I do not intend to let a political smoke-screen close this discussion. My challenge in this matter is to hold a council session open to the public any time anywhere and it will give me a long deferred pleasure to bring witnesses already contacted to prove every word of my evidence."

"What is your reply, Mr. Osborne, and don't hedge."

"Incidentally the whole situation has been remedied and now is what it should have been four years ago—but it took an inquest to do this."

Dear Mrs. Robinson:
Your letter with cheque covering your tag box total and subscriptions sent under separate cover were both received. I am enclosing our official receipt for the total.

Your committee did splendidly on your campaign this year and I know that the campaign committee here will be more than delighted to hear the results. Congratulations from us all. I hope you did not find the undertaking too much this year and am more than glad that you had such an encouraging response from your citizens.

As you have probably seen the Toronto campaign was up $4,200 on tag day night over tag day night of last year. This increase came entirely from the street collections.

Again many, many thanks from everyone here for your committee's continued interest and very excellent co-operation. We appreciate more than it is possible to tell you in any letter of acknowledgment.

Yours sincerely,
B. G. Worts.

Col. R. B. Harkness, D. S. O., camp commandant, led the parade. After it had passed, Brigadier Rutherford left the platform and reviewed the Newmarket Boy Scout troop, which had acted as a guard of honor.

STRAND REDUCES PRICE TO HANDLE WAR TAX

Effective next Monday the adult admission price at the Strand theatre will be reduced five cents from 35 to 30 cents. This price is subject to government war tax.

The management wants the public to bear in mind that the 30 cents is not an increase, but is a reduction of five cents, with the other six cents going to the war effort.

WEEKLIES MEET AT HAMILTON IN WAR-TIME

Weekly newspaper people of Ontario and Quebec were welcomed to the great war industry city of Hamilton last Friday and Saturday. It was distinctly a war-time convention. On Friday afternoon they were taken through a plant getting ready to produce anti-aircraft guns—they were the first group of visitors in this plant since it commenced operations last December. The machines were being operated by men and girls, and almost all bore a plate to the effect that they were the joint property of the British and Canadian governments. This factory will not be producing guns until this fall. It takes time to prepare for war.

Not only did Ottawa throw this factory open to the newspaper group to see and write about, but the department of public information sent along a photographer who took pictures which will later be distributed for publication.

Another war note came from an address by a representative of the dominion and provincial Victory Loan committees, who was introduced by Mr. F. I. Ker, managing director of the Hamilton Spectator and chairman of the Canadian publishers war finance publicity committee.

That was at noon on Friday. On Friday evening Hon. Angus L. Macdonald, minister of national defence for naval services, spoke on the war and the problems presented by the fact that Britain and Canada had not prepared for war. He issued a vibrant call to the weekly newspaper publishers to be aware of "the true magnitude of our task."

On Saturday afternoon we journeyed to Jarvis airport to see 20 young men representing various parts of the British Commonwealth receive their "wings." Incidentally, the Hamilton district seems to be dotted with flying schools. The large areas of level land no doubt make the district ideal. Jarvis airport is of course a gunnery and bombing school. Its great advantage seems to be that the planes can go out over the lake to practice firing and bombing without endangering lives. While we were there, a steady stream of planes was going out on the lake. Two planes would take off at a time, one carrying the students, the other dragging a long zeppelin-like target. When the two planes got back, another took the place of the attacking plane and the pilot of the other released a jacket off his target showing the score. Attendees picked this jacket up and counted the holes in it. The target-dragger then went back to the lake with the next plane.

What impressed us most was the tremendous advantage Britain has in a place of that sort to train her pilots, away from enemy attack or interference. Slowly, irresistibly, Britain's air power is growing.

The convention, however, was not all war. Following Mr. Macdonald's address on Friday evening we saw and heard Hon. P. M. Dewar crown the blossom queen of the Niagara peninsula. Gladstone Marritt, Wentworth county agricultural representative, formerly of Keswick, was present with Mr. Dewar. At noon on Saturday we heard one of Ontario's ablest public speakers, Russell T. Kelley, Hamilton advertising man.

Mr. Kelley spoke not of war but of the small Ontario town and how to make it a bigger, better town.

"I do believe that in every small town there should be a chamber of commerce or a board of trade or similar organization," was one of Mr. Kelley's statements. "I believe that each one of us owes it to his own community to spend his money at home," was another statement.

Mr. Kelley touched on one of the small town "sore spots" when he said that he did not believe "that there is a place in any town for an office where orders can be placed to be filled out of town." "You don't know how much money they take, but when you want to have a baseball team, how much do you get from them to buy sweaters?"

Mr. Kelley also had a few words to say on behalf of agriculture. He believes that Canadian economic policy should provide for a prosperous agriculture. "Prosperous farmers would mean a prosperous Canada."

TOWN-PLANNING COSTS NOTHING

We have two great tasks, our greatest leaders are beginning to say: to win the war and then to win the peace. Even now our governments are laying plans for the "winning of the peace," which will include the solving of economic and industrial problems. But a few leaders cannot solve any nation's problems. The people as a whole must solve these great problems of economic progress and development. Every individual, every municipality, must make its contribution.

Newmarket should be making plans now for post-war development and progress. It costs nothing to plan, to think ahead, to dream of expansion, but it opens the way for the real thing. We can't suppose that our town will experience any great growth, or have any great development, without planning and promotion, or without considerable changes.

It is true that we are planning in our water and light departments, trying to attain greater efficiency in the distribution of electricity and seeking a greater supply of water. Not only are we planning but we are also spending. There are other fields in which we could plan without spending—indeed, instead of spending we could be saving money for our successors. We are thinking of the improvement of streets, the setting aside of industrial sites and residential areas, better approaches to the town, through-traffic routes, establishment of park areas for future needs, extension of town limits, and a dozen other subjects of which our readers will think.

The town which plans for tomorrow is the one which will go ahead today, and the town which plans today will continue to go ahead tomorrow.

RUDOLPH HESS -- A WARNING

Most people, we venture to say, experienced a friendly feeling toward Rudolph Hess as soon as they heard that he had fled Germany and surrendered himself to Britain. Rudolph Hess, however, shares a good deal of responsibility for the atrocities which Germany has inflicted on her own people, particularly those of Jewish descent, and on those whom she has conquered.

Our sudden change of heart toward this No. 3 Nazi, as soon as he has made what amounts to a public admission of error, should serve as a warning of the changes of heart we will experience when Germany finally collapses.

Some of us say now that we will march through Germany, that we will not make the mistake of being so lenient as we were after the last war, even that we will hold Germany in submission forever.

We are told that Germany is now exacting far greater tribute from the countries that she has conquered than the Allies exacted from Germany after the last war. We are asked to believe that our only mistake was that we were not harsh enough, and even that we might have prevented this war by greater severity in our treatment of defeated Germany.

The truth is that we were not lenient toward Germany after the last war. We maintained the food blockade for long months after the armistice, causing thousands of unnecessary fatalities and increasing the bitterness existing between the two sides.

We imposed huge money penalties which proved uncollectible long years before Germany started to re-arm. One reason we were unable to collect was that we did not want to accept payment in goods. We wanted payment in gold. Under our strange system of international trade each country wants to unload more goods on other countries than it takes from them.

What we wanted to do after the last war was not to accept goods from Germany but to sell her goods and get payment in gold in addition to reparations gold. Our economic experts finally came to the conclusion that a war can't be paid for and gave reparations up as a bad job.

In our opinion, the treaty of Versailles, the League of Nations and the series of disarmament conferences which followed, even though the final result was war, were an amazing step forward in the progress of the human race. We were not successful in putting an end to war, but it was only the first attempt.

After this war we will make another attempt, a wiser attempt. We may not even impose reparations after this war. Each country will have all it can do to rebuild itself. We shall certainly make a new effort to set up some kind of international rule, and the fact that Britain was not prepared for this war, and had not prepared for it, will be her strength in asking other nations to embark upon a new attempt to achieve permanent peace and disarmament.

British people don't hate Rudolph Hess. They do not even hate the madman, Hitler, still at large. They do not hate the German people.

The German people are misled by unscrupulous persons who gained power in time of despair and depression. The German people are inherently little different from the British people. Both are largely of the same descent. In school our teachers and our books told us that the British people developed the better system of government because of their island home, which gave them freedom to develop while continental peoples were continually overrun and overrunning.

These findings of the ablest British scholars have not lost their truth because war now rages between the British and German nations. These two nations now at war have more in common with each other than either has with most of the other nations of Europe or Asia. Brothers will quarrel sometimes with horrible consequences.

There will yet be a real brotherhood of man, "a parliament of man, the federation of the world."

WHAT OTHERS THINK

KING-ROOSEVELT ECONOMIC ACHIEVEMENT

(Barrie Examiner)

When it was announced that Prime Minister King was going down to Warm Springs for a rest, and that he might at the same time pay a friendly call upon President Roosevelt, few people attached any special significance to the trip. It is now quite evident that Mr. King's friendly call had a definite and important purpose since it resulted in a deal which has settled some of the financial and business problems between Canada and the United States. The effect of the deal is the virtual pooling of defence production facilities of the two countries. Extensive use is to be made of American and Canadian factories, so that both can now go "full out" in the production of war materials. Canada has also been relieved of the worry of finding American dollars, which will now be supplied as needed to facilitate business.

With the promise of a greater tourist influx this summer, Ontario towns and villages must be prepared to welcome the visitors by co-operative community effort in the field of "clean-up, paint-up" and improvement of accommodation and catering. Still more important is the need on the part of Canadians for an attitude of confidence in the ultimate victory of our cause. There must be no defeatist talk. Our visiting neighbors will judge of our war effort and particularly of our morale by our attitude and conversation. Nazi agents are spreading the lie in the United States that Canadians are only half-hearted in this war. We must convince the American people of the sincerity of our faith and the determination of our resolve to see this fight through to victory, whatever the cost may be.

MR. AND MRS. PHOEBE BUILD A HOME

BY RUTH DINGMAN HESS

"I'm really quite tired out this morning," Mr. Phoebe told Young Chips, the Chickadee. "Why should you be tired?" asked Young Chips. "What would you do if you were me and faced the immediate prospect of becoming a father any minute? Our eggs are just about ready to hatch out."

"Well, we have one egg laid in our nest already and we built the nest yesterday, working all day," said the Phoebe. "That's why I'm tired. And we even worked more than that, because our first nest was moved. Can you imagine such nerve? But we started over again."

"You'd better explain yourself," advised the Chickadee. "Do you mean that some other bird moved your nest?"

"Of course not, silly," said the Phoebe. "A man moved it. We were terribly upset at first. I'll tell you all about it."

"We chose a nice spot to build in, in a summer kitchen with a woodshed next to it and no wall between," explained the Phoebe. "It was up on a scantling over the stove and we thought it was just right."

"There was some nice clay from a freshly dug well out in the yard and puddles of mud from recent rain—ideal building conditions."

"Go on," said Young Chips. "I'm listening."

"Well, we worked on the clay foundation the day before yesterday but hadn't finished our nest by night," said the Phoebe. "And the next morning when we started work again a man came into the kitchen and started working around the stove. It turned out that our nest site was directly above the stove and he didn't like it. We'd spilled some clay on it, I'll have to admit."

"What did he do?" asked the Chickadee curiously.

"He climbed right up and moved it over to a rafter on the woodshed side of the building," said the Phoebe solemnly. "You can imagine our feelings! We scolded him, but he didn't make any attempt to put it back."

"I guess he didn't like the idea of a bird's nest right over the stove," said Young Chips. "You can't blame him, can you?"

"No, but my wife insisted that she wouldn't give up that building, with the clay and everything so convenient, so we started in building again right away, on the plate beam this time. And the man didn't object to that."

"Perhaps it's just as well that you didn't stay above the stove," put in Young Chips cheerfully.

"One of our babies might have fallen into some hot porridge."

"I'll tell you the rest," said the olive-green Phoebe, who seemed to want to talk. "We carried in clay and water from a mud puddle and made a nice nest.

My wife would bring a bill full of clay and I would bring a bill full of water. It's exacting work.

When we had that done we still had to line the nest. It was noon

by that time."

"What do you use for lining?"

asked Young Chips.

"That was when this gentleman I told you about did us a good turn," said the Phoebe.

"He opened a bag of hen feathers that he had. And we used some for lining. They were ideal. We had the nest finished by the end of the day—a lovely home for our family."

"That chap certainly made up for moving your nest by providing you with some of your material, didn't he?" observed

Young Chips.

"My gracious, just look over there!" cried out the Phoebe suddenly. "In the field in front of you—on the post. Oh he's flying now."

"Horrors, it's a Sparrow

Hawk!" screamed the Chickadee excitedly. "You couldn't mistake that small size, falcon-like wings and the way he flies. He's fluttering above the field now."

"Look, he's practically motionless in the air," pointed out the Phoebe. "It looks as if he's scarcely moving his wings. That proves he's a Sparrow Hawk all right, even though we can't see his beautiful reddish brown and blue-gray coloring."

"He's dropped down to the grass," said Young Chips. "Oh,

I hope he doesn't catch some poor little Sparrow unsuspectly walking about in the grass."

"No, he missed his quarry, thank goodness," sighed the Phoebe in relief. "He's gone over to that post to look around again."

"Let's get out of here," said the Chickadee. "I don't feel safe in the vicinity of that Hawk.

Small as he is. He's quite a killer of small birds, although he's supposed to be a real pro-fector for the farm, because he kills so many mice."

"I agree, let's get away quickly," said the Phoebe. "And keep near the trees, too, so he won't notice us."

The Common Round

EVOLUTION OR REVOLUTION

By Isabel Inglis Colville

Every writer, every commentator and a great many individuals seem to be quite sure that the changes which will follow this war will be drastic—even epoch-making.

Of course, all these suppositions presuppose an Allied victory, without which we would have no hopes, no dreams, no suppositions—only grim certainties, which, by the way, it seems to me, some people would do well to face—it might add incentive to their war efforts.

But among those who try to envisage after the war conditions, there seem to be two principal schools of thought—those who believe that though enormous changes must come, they will be gradual—a new and better order will gradually evolve, as the hectic strain of war and all its affiliations subside; as soldiers and war-working civilians are gradually absorbed into peace-time industry, and as the nations work out new social, economic and foreign policies.

They believe that the rights of the workers, who hitherto have not shared sufficiently in the wealth they have helped to produce, will be recognized; that the right of all workers to social security will be unchallenged; and that the children of rich and poor will have a more equal start in life.

Just how these are to evolve is not yet altogether clear, but one gathers that the community of interest, the pooling of resources, the hatred of Nazism and all it stands for has given to men a clearer vision of what the world SHOULD be and an intense desire to make of life for ALL something so fine that the brute which seems to have come to the surface in some races will be cast out.

Education for children and adults in citizenship, in equality of opportunity and the brotherhood of man is the goal of their evolution—and the only question is, "Will the post-war world be ready to evolve or will it be so glad to get back to a certain degree of normality that the rich will again try to add riches to riches and the poor become poorer, living on dole and relief, and hating a world which has nothing for them?"

Those who believe that the post-war change will be revolutionary, believe that the whole status quo of our pre-war world will be changed "at the sounding of the trumpet" of victory.

Now revolutions, as we know them, have been bloody and costly affairs—I mean costly in the loss of life, of property and of friendship. The French Revolution produced scenes of horror that the imagination shrinks from and could so easily have been prevented by granting the

POLICE COURT
Toronto Sargeant Gets 7 Days For Drink-Driving

After spending a week in jail, as ordered by Magistrate W. F. Wood, a 19-year-old Sargeant, charged with the theft of $45, the property of Briar Dairy, Sutton, appeared in court on Tuesday and was placed on probation with a suspended sentence of one year. The youth said that he had made restitution.

Dr. David Glassey, Toronto, charged with driving while intoxicated, was sentenced to jail for seven days, and in case of default of payment of court costs, which amounted to $34.20, an additional seven days (term) is to be added. On a second charge, that of driving while his license was suspended, his wife was fined the defendant $10 and costs of $1.50, or ten days. In addition, the car, which is owned by the defendant's wife, is to be impounded for three months and his license is to be suspended for three months. Dr. Glassey had obtained his license from the department since this charge was laid.

W. H. Chapman, Aurora, driver of a car going north on Yonge St. in the vicinity of the Summit golf club, at about 6.45 p.m., on Good Friday testified that he had been going about 40 miles an hour. "It was a clear day and the roads were dry," he stated. "As I approached the entrance a car shot out to meet me from the golf club to Yonge St." "Did you notice if the car stopped before it shot out?" asked Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C.

"I could not be positive," answered the witness. "The car came out so fast, I swerved to my left but we met. The left front corner of his car collided with the right front corner of mine."

Questioned as to the number of lanes at this part of the highway the witness stated that there were four lanes and that the accident occurred near the centre of the road.

"Was anyone hurt in your car?" asked the crown.

"Not seriously. About $125 damage was done to my car." He could not say how much damage was done to the other car.

"Who was driving the other car?" "Dr. Glassey," replied the witness.

Questioned as to the actions of the defendant after the accident, the witness stated: "He got out of his car, stood at the side of it a while and then went over to the grassy bank and lay down. He stayed there, I believe, until the officer came."

"What did he do there?" asked the crown. "In my opinion he went to sleep." Mr. Chapman added that the defendant was unsteady on his feet as he walked.

Cross-examined by the defence counsel, Mr. Mann, Mr. Chapman stated that he could not say whether Dr. Glassey stopped his car on entering the highway. He further stated that he knew that he could not get by without a collision but that it was natural for him to swerve to try to avoid it.

According to the evidence of James Maxey, Toronto, driver of the car behind that of the former witness, he saw the Chapman car swerve out as if to avoid the crash which later occurred. "I did not see the car coming out of the golf club but heard the crash," he stated. He said that he saw another passenger, who was in the Glassey car, running away and throwing a bottle of whiskey into the bushes. He said that the defendant made as if to follow this man, but that he prevented him from going away.

"Dr. Glassey was continuing as if he had had liquor," said the witness. "He said that he had a bad leg — had the cast taken off it five or six days previous." He added that, in his opinion, the defendant had gone to sleep on the grass.

"Were there many people around?" asked Mr. Mathews. "Yes, there were quite a number. When Constable Jackman tried to arouse Dr. Glassey, he acted as if he did not know what it was all about. He didn't seem to comprehend the seriousness of the accident."

In answer to Mr. Mann's question as to where he was going at the time of the accident, Mr. Maxey said that he was taking his wife, his mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Steele for a drive.

"For excitement?" asked the defence. "I don't take old ladies for excitement," replied the witness.

In answer as to whether Dr. Glassey was asleep as he lay on the grass, Mr. Maxey stated that it was his opinion that he was asleep.

"I saw the impact," stated Charles W. Steele, Toronto, passenger in the Maxey car. "It happened rather suddenly. Dr. Glassey's car came out of the driveway and Mr. Chapman tried to swerve to avoid the accident. Dr. Glassey did not stop but went right into the Chapman car." Mr. Steele stated that the defendant said that he was not driving the car and did not own it.

"Which side of the car did he get out from?" asked the crown. "The right side," replied the witness. He added that the passenger got out the right side of the car also, ahead of the defendant.

"I suggested that the Chapman car run into Dr. Glassey's car," stated the defence.

"No, Dr. Glassey's car could have stopped but it didn't," replied Mr. Steele. "If it had stopped, the Chapman car would have passed him."

Dr. James R. Langstaff, Richmond Hill, told his worship that he examined the defendant when Constable Ronald Hewatt brought him to his office at about 8.45 p.m. "When I first saw him he was lying on the couch on his back with one foot up in the air, pointed to the ceiling."

He stated that as Dr. Glassey went into the examination room he "was unsteady on his feet and definitely staggered. I asked him who he was, and he did not answer." Dr. Langstaff said that the defendant handed him his identification card. Later Dr. Glassey told him that he had had a leg injury and had had the cast taken off it about six days previously. The witness stated that later the defendant told him that he had had a cocktail made up of gin, vermouth, sherry and rum.

Questioned as to the degree of intoxication of the defendant, Dr. Langstaff stated: "I would say that he was intoxicated to a degree that would make him unfit to be in charge of a motor vehicle. He staggered, was in a happy mood and did not realize the seriousness of the situation." Dr. Langstaff said that the defendant was slow to answer questions and his breath smelled of liquor.

Upon cross-examination the witness stated that the sore leg might have caused some of the wobbling, but did not altogether cause it.

"As for being in a happy mood, do you not think a professional doctor, a man of his experience, would take it in his stride when in a difficult situation?" asked the defence.

"I couldn't consider that a normal attitude after a serious accident," replied Dr. Langstaff.

"You wouldn't expect him to be drunk when he was able to give details of the cocktail, would you?" asked Mr. Mann.

"I think there is quite a degree of difference between where a person is in no condition to drive a car and where he couldn't give details of a cocktail," the witness replied.

Constable Hewatt, who investigated the accident, testified that he appeared on the scene about 20 minutes after the accident. "On my arrival there I found a 1936 car on the east side of the highway near the centre and facing west. A few feet away was a 1932 car facing northeast on the west side of the road. The first car belonged to Dr. Glassey, the other to Mr. Chapman."

"Dr. Glassey was lying on the grass at the side of the highway," he continued. "I walked over and shook him but was unable to rouse him. I gave him a good shake but there was no response." The officer stated that Constable Jackman, whom he notified, also shook the defendant and asked him to get up. "He asked 'Why?' Constable Jackman said 'Because I want you to.' He got up, walked unsteady on his feet."

Constable Hewatt stated that he and Constable Jackman went into the club-house in order to find the passenger who had left the scene. They could not find him but did find an empty whiskey bottle in a sink in the washroom.

Constable Jackman testified that he was of the opinion that Dr. Glassey was asleep when he was lying on the grass. "He smelled very strongly of liquor and in my opinion the man was intoxicated," stated the officer.

In his defence Dr. Glassey stated that he did not see the Chapman car. He said that he stopped his car as he entered the highway and thought he would swing into the gap between the cars proceeding north. "When I saw that there was going to be an accident I stepped on the brakes."

He stated that his friend's ankle had been hurt, so he went into the club. He denied any knowledge of the bottle of whiskey. He stated that he did not drink hard liquor but took some sherry at times. He explained that he had had an injured leg and had had the cast removed shortly before the accident and had played 15 holes of golf the day in question, although it was unwise to do so. He said that when he told Dr. Langstaff that he had had one with him but gave it to his friends. He himself had six ounces of sherry.

He gave the pugnacious attitude of the bystanders as his reason for lying on the grass and said that he was only making believe that he was asleep in order that they might not bother him further. He told his worship that a back injury as well as his injured leg was the reason that he wobbled.

"You told Mr. Steele that you were not driving the car, was this correct?" asked the crown. "No," answered the defendant.

"Was it correct that you are not the owner of the car?" Dr. Glassey said that the car belonged to his wife.

Asked why he lay down and pretended to be asleep the defendant said that he was not used to being "man-handled," that he was under a certain amount of emotional strain, especially as he had been driving while his license was suspended.

Dr. Smilie Lawson, Toronto, testified as to the defendant's character. "I have known him since a small boy. He is the son of David Glassey of Harbour Collegiate. He had a brilliant university career, is a good surgeon, had a brilliant career in New York. I did not know he drank anything until this accident."

Major Lewis, clerk of the Legislative Assembly, Ontario, and W. J. Mitchell, field secretary of the Boy Scouts Association, testified that they had known Dr. Glassey for about seven years, both professionally and socially, and never had known him to take any liquor other than a little sherry now and then.

Dr. Crens, Toronto, stated that he had been treating Dr. Glassey for an injured leg and had prescribed a tonic. He said that he told him he might take a little sherry.

"I am sorry," Magistrate Woodliffe told Glassey. "The evidence of your friends is that you are an asset in your professional life. But I can't overlook evidence in this case. The evidence of Dr. Langstaff is that you were in no condition to drive a car. The evidence of Mr. Chapman is that you were intoxicated. Mr. Steele corroborates his statement. Three citizens who were not in the accident at all, and the evidence of the officers, all say that you were intoxicated. I can't conceive you acting as you did at the time of the accident. I don't believe that you are as stupid as that at all."

Magistrate Woodliffe fined Howard V. Crowe, Toronto, $10 and costs for unlawfully fishing in East Gwillimbury. The defendant pleaded guilty to the charge. Constable Ernest Prosser told his worship that he had been patrolling the Holland Marsh with Constable Bule when he came upon Mr. Crowe and three others with a bag of pike.

Six dollars and costs were the fines imposed on three motorists who drove at 43 miles an hour through Aurora. They were Green Dental Supply Co., Toronto, A. Clemence, Slayner, and Gordon H. Thompson, Oshawa. A fine of $5 and costs was placed on H. O. Pinger, Parry Sound, who drove his car at 41 miles an hour through the same town. John Morgan, Toronto, and John Kanyo, Bradford, drove through Aurora at 45 miles an hour and were fined $5 and costs.

Albert Sanagan, Toronto, failed to stop at the corner of Water and Main Sts. in Newmarket, and was fined $1 and costs.

Correct Answers Jump To 42 But You'll Have To Think Hard To Win Clark Gable Double Pass

Here are last week's classified ad contest winners: Miss Lottie Tansley, Sharon, Miss Amy Gibson, Queensville, Miss Shirley Oldham, Mount Albert, Mrs. J. McBride, Newmarket, and Miss Edyth Gordon, Queensville.

Forty-two persons submitted correct answers which reached The Era office by 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday, and the above five were drawn from among them. Others submitted incorrect or late answers.

These five winners may obtain their double passes for next Tuesday's or next Thursday's show at the Strand, Newmarket, at any time, including the evening of the show they attend.

Here are last week's answers: "Live Boy Tires Cooking While Collie Wants Water or Butter-milk."

Evidently, the puzzle-editors slipped a bit. They still think that last week's contest was quite difficult, but this week they are quite sure that there will be less than 42 submitting correct answers. There is a lot of fun in it even if you don't win.

Next week's winners will receive double passes for Tuesday, May 27, to see George Formby in "I See Ice" and Boris Karloff in "The Devil Commands," or for Thursday, May 29, to see Clark Gable and Hedy Lamarr in

In Memoriam

Griffiths—In loving memory of our dear little daughter, Carol Anna, who passed away May 14, 1938, aged one year and two weeks.

The depths of sorrow we cannot tell.
Of the loss of one we loved so well;
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep
Her memory we shall always keep.
Always remembered by Mummy and Daddy.

Money Cut Off, But Missions Will Go On

"The missions of the Anglican church in Canada will still continue unabated, despite the fact that there will be no contributions from England until after the war," Rev. R. K. Perdue, rector of Trinity Anglican church, told The Era in discussing the diocese synod meeting held in Toronto last week. "The diocese was unanimous in carrying on the work and accepting the additional burden which the churchmen in England regretfully had to forgo," he said. "This will mean additional burdens for all Canadian parishes to bear, but there was a feeling at the synod that we both could and would meet the added responsibilities."

Reports from every parish indicated increased congregations and financial returns as well as increased interest in the affairs of the church, he indicated. "The war has brought more people back to church and has made people more conscious of their responsibilities and the danger that confronts the church of today and freedom of worship," concluded Mr. Perdue.

BOY KILLS BEAVER BY HURLING STONE

Tom Quinn, 10, a young Sutton marksman, killed a beaver that was a mile from the nearest water, at the farm of Mrs. Fred Corner, on Friday afternoon. The youngster thought that his stone had killed a porcupine, but it turned out to be a beaver. Although there is a penalty of $200 fine for killing beavers, no action will be taken against the boy. The carcass was given to an Indian family, who consider beaver a tasty dish, and the pelt will be forwarded to the department of game and fisheries for disposal. TO THE EDITOR

GOD AND THE WAR

Editor, The Era: Why does God allow war? Why does God not intervene and stop the terrible slaughter of human life and destruction of property, and those things which we hold dear to our way of life? Perhaps, in the last sentence is the very reason for it, is our way of life, both individual and national, the right or righteous way? If not, how are we to know the right way? Who is teaching it? Is the state or church? Did God leave it to the individual to define for himself the way? Are the commandments, statutes and judgments as given in Holy writ simply an ideal for the individual to try and live up to with no definite consummation? Can the individual live a righteous life under an unrighteous system? Has God given us a definite national plan whereby man can live a righteous life? A system of law for the individual, the family, the town, the county, the provincial and federal, and also international. Laws for the land. Laws for finance, etc. Study, not read, the principle in these laws given in Leviticus and Deut. These are commandments and statutes. They are divine laws, eternal laws, everlasting laws, natural laws, and never abrogated at any time and applicable to every age, and the duty of a national government to administer them. There are also judgments for the breaking of these laws, and Biblical and secular history record the fulfillment of these judgments in the individual and national life of peoples. War is one of these inevitable judgments for failure to keep the law of God. Not God's will, but a wilful ignorance of God's way of life for humanity. The Ten Commandments are a summary of the laws of God, and the Lord's Prayer is a petition that His law shall be enacted in the earth. Have we shown any desire as individuals or as a nation to have God's system operative in the earth? Have we been taught that God has an economic plan for the spiritual and material regeneration of mankind? They cannot be separated; church and state must function properly together as in the original set-up by God; a house must not be divided against itself; each has its duty to perform. The state to administer the law, the church to teach. God has given us all that it is possible for Him to give, even His son, Jesus Christ. I ask this question: "Would the cross have been necessary if Israel had kept the laws of God? Would Israel have been dispersed?" No. God is a just God, a covenant-keeping God. Israel was told the judgments would become effective if the statutes and commandments were not kept, and they followed just as surely as night follows day—war, disease, pestilence, famine and everything that is hurtful to mankind is mentioned in those judgments. But the saddest part is that these laws were done away with by the sacrifice on the cross, which is a very erroneous idea, contrary to the Bible and the teachings of Christ. For He said "Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets. I am not come to destroy but to fulfill. For verily I say unto you till heaven and earth pass one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law until all be fulfilled." Matthew 5: 17-18. Again I ask, what law is Christ speaking of? Was it the law of God as given through Moses? The law of the Divine principles that would apply to any and every age? Has that law been fulfilled yet or will Christ fulfil it from an earthly throne? When the law goes forth from Zion (the seat of government) and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem. Man-made laws are the cause of war. God has given us a law to administer the treasures of the earth for the benefit of mankind. That law was rejected by the Israel people when they demanded a king to judge them as the heathen nations had and the Israel people must repent as a people and be willing to return to the law of God before there can be immunity from war. The trumpet blast from every pulpit should be a national as well as an individual repentance. Righteous laws make a righteous people; unrighteous laws an unrighteous people. You cannot serve God and mammon. David said, "The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul" and again "Once I was young but now I am old, yet I have never seen the righteous begging bread."

BUSINESS MAGNATES VISIT BOYHOOD CHURCH

The 70th anniversary banquet of King United church, held last week, attracted a capacity crowd. Mrs. J. M. Winter, for more than 60 years a member of the church, was present. "Many small boys got started along the right path in life by the Christian teachings in the first church on this site," Elmer Davis of Kingston, one-time member, told the audience. His brother, Captain Aubrey Davis of Newmarket, also spoke. Both these men, who in their youth lived in the King district, are now successful industrialists.

War is the judgment for failure to keep God's economic laws, a self-inflicted judgment. Who has the best means of conveying this to the people? Christ taught the Gospel of the Kingdom during His whole ministry on earth and will come again, not as a prophet or priest, but as King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, and will rule the nations with a rod of iron, but not until God has made His enemies His footstool. (Psa. 110, Rev. 2: 27, Rev. 19: 15).

The control of nations has gotten beyond the power of man. The wise men of the world gathered together to form the League of Nations, but the best they could do was to build a wall with untempered mortar, and it crashed. Why? Because men and nations refuse to accept the social and economic plan as given by the Great Architect of the universe, and so we have built another Babel on the foundations of the old and see it being wrecked before our very eyes. But the sanctuary will be completely cleansed this time; no more new structures on old foundations, or new wine in old bottles. Every wall shall fall, every barrier that will hinder the administration of the Kingdom laws will be removed. Yes, and we choose to take it the hard way, through war rather than national repentance. And after those days I will put my law in their inward parts and write it in their hearts, and will be their God and they shall be My people, and they shall teach no more, every man his neighbor and every man his brother, but they shall all know Me from the least to the greatest, saith the Lord, and I will forgive their iniquity and remember their sin no more (National).

Thus saith the Lord which giveth the sun for a light by day and the ordinances of the moon and stars for a light by night, which divideth the sea when the waves thereof roar. The Lord of Hosts is His name. If those ordinances depart from before me, saith the Lord, then the seed of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before Me. Jer. 31. (Read to end of chapter).

Yes, we shall come through this war a chastened people, for we have God's assurance by the light of the sun, moon and stars that Israel will be a nation to the end of time. There'll always be an Israel and Israel shall be free if Israel means as much to you as Israel means to me. Yours sincerely, H. J. Luck, Newmarket, Ont.

KING WOMAN DIES OF SUDDEN HEART ATTACK

A resident of King township for over 50 years, Annie Tressa Evans, wife of the late Robert A. Evans, died on Saturday in her 73rd year. Her passing was sudden, as the result of a heart attack. Mrs. Evans was well-known in the King district, where she was a member of the Snowball United church and for several years president of the W.A. Her late husband died in 1935. They were married on June 23, 1880. The late Mrs. Evans was born in King township, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hunt (Sarah Crossley). Two sons, Elgin, Newmarket, and Arthur, King; two daughters, Dorothy (Mrs. Ivan Monkman, Newmarket), and Marjorie (Mrs. Reginald Flintoff, Orillia), and two brothers, Charles Hunt, King, and Robert Hunt, Sask., survive. The funeral service took place at her late residence and interment was made in Aurora cemetery. Rev. W. J. Burton conducted the funeral service. Pallbearers were Hugh Hunt, Herbert Hunt, Robert Hunt, Stewart Hunt, Stanley Hunt, and Medford Pearson.

Young Toronto Minister Is Invited To Aurora Pulpit

A general congregational meeting of Aurora United church was held on Tuesday evening to vote upon the appointment to the pastorate of the church, which has been vacant since Rev. Dr. E. J. Thompson tendered his resignation last January. It was unanimously voted to invite Rev. Roy Hicks of Toronto, who preached here last month. Mr. Hicks has been assistant at Toronto High Park United church for the past two years. He is a young man and made a marked impression on those who heard him preach when he visited the Aurora church. E. H. Clarke, chairman of the pastoral relations committee, reported that there had been over 60 applications for the vacant pulpit. Rev. W. A. Westcott of the Temperanceville-Wesley circuit acted as chairman and J. H. Knowles as secretary.

Town's Oldest Male Resident, Jacob Anderson Dies At 94

The funeral took place at Aurora cemetery last Friday of Aurora's oldest male resident, the late Jacob Anderson, Wells St. He was in his 95th year and had been in ill health the past four months. A native of King township, Mr. Anderson had resided in Aurora for 72 years, for all of which time, until the present year, he had been on the pay-roll of J. Fleury & Son, or Fleury-Bissell Ltd. He was for many years foreman of the moulding shop and it will be recalled that he it was who poured the first Fleury modern plow, subsequently purchased by his father. The past few years he has served in an advisory capacity. A Liberal in politics, he served the town as councillor in the 90's, when Aurora elected its council by wards. For many years he served the old Methodist church as Sunday-school superintendent, recording secretary and trustee. He was a life-long member of I.O.O.F. No. 148, Aurora, and funeral services were under the lodge's auspices, pallbearers being prominent members of the order. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. T. R. White of Aurora. Surviving are his widow, the former Margaret Smith, and two sons, Rev. T. H. Anderson of Oshawa, and Frank, principal of Cobalt high school. Mayor J. C. Anderson of Oshawa is a grandson.

Scholars Raise $50 For War Victims' Fund

Principal Bert Wilson and the pupils of Oakridge public school feel pretty proud of their effort of last Friday night, when they raised $50 for the British war victims' fund.

For the past few weeks seven boys, Victor Styrom, Murray Judge, Teddy Munro, Gordon Roberts, Jack Monkman, Bernard Le Patre and Leonard Cowan have been using the facilities of the workshop at Aurora high school, with the co-operation of J. C. Breckenridge of the high school staff, and many fine articles were made, such as tie-racks, smoking-stands, etc.

On Friday, with Harry Wilson of Kettleby as auctioneer, these raised nearly $12. Then the balance was raised from tickets sold to the concert and lucky draws for groceries donated by Oakridge merchants. Taking part in the program were the Aurora Mountaineers and Grace Davis and Nora Calhoun, local post dancers. Prize-winners for the draws included John Cowling, Beulah Yule, Mrs. J. Styrom, Mrs. M. Bates, Eva Judge, V. Nedry, Alfred Johnston.

AURORA GIRL HAS PRETTY WEDDING

On Wednesday, May 7, a quiet wedding took place at the Church of the Epiphany, Toronto, when Clara E. Taylor, youngest daughter of Major W. H. Taylor and the late Mrs. Taylor, Aurora, became the bride of W. H. Bridgeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bridgeman, Toronto.

Rev. G. S. Despard, former rector of Trinity United church here, performed the ceremony. The couple will reside in Toronto.

NATIVE OF AURORA DIES IN 100TH YEAR

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon from P. M. Thompson's funeral parlors of Ell Cummer of Vancouver, B. C., who died this week in that city in his 100th year. He was born in Willowdale and a brother, Prof. Frank Cummer, Spruce St., resides in Aurora. Mr. Cummer was for many years employed with the C.N.R. and resided here for a time about 15 years ago. The remains will arrive in Aurora tomorrow. Rev. T. R. White will conduct the funeral service.

Cadet Corps Praised By Inspecting Officer

Despite leaden skies the annual cadet inspection of the Aurora high school cadets took place in the town park on Friday. The corps won high praise from Capt. E. D. "Teddy" Graham of M.D. No. 2, the inspecting officer. The boys, dressed in khaki uniforms, with a green trim and black caps, looked every inch "fighting men," while the bugle band with black tunics, caps and white trousers, performed splendidly.

Under the direction of Captain Howard Pollock and Lieutenants Ronald Kyle and Russell Rawlings, the corps did company and platoon drill and rifle work. The signaller, under the direction of Lieut. Bill Walker, showed their efficiency in fine style, while physical jerks were under the direction of C.S.M. Harvey Findlay. Section commanders were Sgts. Bill Thompson, Vaughan Williams, Harold Oliver and Bill Babcock.

Principal J. H. Knowles, Mayor Frank Underhill, Robert Moore, Major W. H. Taylor, Dr. C. J. Devins and Dr. G. W. Williams, chairman of the high school board, were grouped at the reviewing base. Accompanying Capt. Graham in an unofficial capacity was Lieut. J. P. Cox of the Royal Regiment, Camp Borden, who was captain of the cadets at the local school eight years ago.

"I compliment you on your smartness and general efficiency," said Captain Graham. "Your movements were well executed and every man had his heart set on doing his best. The band was exceptionally good for a school band. I hope you will carry on in your work. It is splendid training for any boy and cadet training has helped us out in many instances at the present time." Mayor Frank Underhill also congratulated the boys.

A parade through town followed the inspection and a dance was held in the evening with Max Bong's orchestra providing the music.

By vote of his fellow cadets, Captain Howard Pollock was chosen to represent the local school at an inspection which was made by representative cadets throughout Ontario at Camp Borden on Tuesday.

FORMER RESIDENT IS ASSAULTED, ROBBED

A former Aurora resident, Oliver Whitmore, was assaulted and robbed by thugs recently in Toronto. Mr. Whitmore was awaiting a train at Parkdale station and while walking on Queen St. was accosted by a stranger who requested "a light." As Whitmore complied he was struck from behind by two men, who took over $200 from his pockets. The trio escaped in a waiting automobile before Whitmore could grapple with them or obtain help. They have not yet been apprehended by Toronto police. A subscription to The Era will make a friend happy.

Postmaster Retires After Serving Over Half-Century

Tenders have been called for by the post office department at Ottawa for the position of postmaster here. The position is said to carry with it a minimum salary of $1,680. H. E. Proctor, who has been in charge of the office here for over 50 years, will retire on June 1. Several prominent members of the Liberal party locally have been mentioned for the position, as well as one or two outsiders and the present deputy-postmaster, Clifford Corbett, who has been on the staff here 11 years.

Win Or Lose King's Plate, Aurora Boy Weds Beauty

This year the King's Plate race, which is run on Saturday, May 17, at the Woodbine track, Toronto, carries special interest for North Yorkers, for astride one of the top favorites will be 25-year-old Charles Walker Smith, the fair-haired Aurora lad who has made good in the turf world and seems destined to rise to the heights this year. Winning the King's Plate is the highest goal of every Canadian jockey or horseman. It is the second chance for the honors for young Smith, but his first real chance. Last year the horse he rode, Ringwise, which could by no sense of the word be called a favorite, balked at the barrier, ran the wrong way and ran itself out of the race. Smith is the first North York or Aurora boy ever to ride in the classic or to be chosen to ride a standout entry.

Mrs. Margaret Smith, Charlie's mother, will be absent from the track, but nonetheless she'll be with or lose she and all Aurora will be mighty proud of Charlie's achievement. C. W., dubbed "Can't Win" by his riding pals by way of a joke, can really change the monkey-forsever to "Can Win," a much more appropriate title for the lad, when his record of the past few years is considered. It was in 1930, as a boy of 15, that the Aurora youngster decided he was going to be a jockey. His elder brother, Eric, who was then an apprentice at the Thorncliffe stables, holds a 100 per cent racing record, one race—one win. Guy Bedwell, the famous American trainer, gave Charlie a chance and took him around the American tracks where he was all the time watching, learning and improving. It was at Bainbridge track in Kentucky in 1933 that Bedwell finally allowed "Smithy" to go to the post and on a horse few thought could win, called Gain Gold. The final results saw Smith a winner, and the horse pay $121 for first place. That was the start of it, and from then on he gradually received more and more mounts. He campaigned in Quebec and American tracks by the score, but mounts Right after the race Charlie is to wed a Chicago beauty, Miss Anne Morrow. If anybody can make "Undisturbed" understand the importance of it all it's the Aurora lad. Win or lose, however, the wedding goes on and the bride will be just as proud of C.W., no matter what happens. According to Mrs. Smith, Charlie wasn't given much chance to survive as a baby by the doctors, but he's certainly a hardy 107-lb. specimen of manhood now.

ACCEPTS POSITION

Miss Eileen Walker has accepted a position with the Aurora office of the Bell Telephone Co.

GRAY COACH LINES

DOWN THE CENTRE

George Stone, the fastballer of the Richmond Hill Roses mound, is now located in Hamilton and will play ball there. Rumor has it, too, that Ronnie O'Dell, promising young hurler of last year, will not be available for action either for the Ryan clan. Those two new pitchers better be plenty good.

Brampton Excelsors appear to be lining up a fair sort of box-line this season. Included in the line-up is Bus Banting, a hold-over from last year, and who played hockey and lacrosse briefly here, and Rusty White, the Richmond Hill boy, who has been a stand-out for years now with Fergus. Rusty must have received a tempting offer, for last season he said he was through, but, frankly, we think he's going to jockey back and forth for two reasons: first, because he wants to wind up an O.A.L.A. championship team, and, secondly, once the game gets in your blood it's pretty hard to quit. Those who saw the big fellow in action against Sutton Greenshirts last winter reported he was right in the pink and as good as when he used to zoom down from the Aurora defence to rifle one past a startled goalie.

Fame is fickle! It wasn't many years ago since the name of Teddy Graham would have had the kids popping around to see a real live National hockey league star in the flesh, and yet last Friday we'll wager there wasn't one in the crowd at the high school inspection who knew that Capt. E. D. Graham, the inspecting officer, was the former Owen Sound-Chicago Maroon-Canadian star. Ted, who was for a time on the staff at Newmarket training centre, is just the right type of fellow to give the secondary school youths a boost in their cadet work, tho' he'd probably rather be elsewhere. His eagle eye misses nothing and he makes everyone feel at ease. At whatever job he's on you can depend on it: the former hockey pro will do it well—and he popular with those about him. His own unit is the Grey Simcoe Foresters and he was a member for some years at Owen Sound prior to the war.

Bob Benville returns to the cycling grind on May 24, when he will compete in the 25-mile C.W.A. race at Toronto High Park, one of the toughest grinds on the continent and rightly termed a "suicide race" in view of the terrain and spills. Bob is equipping his bike with new brakes, free-wheeling, and will don a special crash helmet for protection. He is the only one of the local riders to compete in the event. It will be recalled that two years ago Mickey Smith had a bad crack-up in the same event. The Aurora boy is training hard and will be heard from among the class B riders. The race starts at eight bells in the morning and a host of well-known riders are entered.

CANADA CALLS

Canada has reason to count her blessings in these days of trial.

Canada is three thousand miles away from the sound of guns which are devastating Europe.

The broad Atlantic Ocean rolls between us and the ruthless savagery of the German Armies.

The strongest fleets in the world—British, American and Canadian—patrol the sea between us and the enemy.

We have a great friendly nation, probably the richest and most powerful in the world, at our side.

CANADA CAN AFFORD HER SACRIFICES

This war is a mechanized war.

We have the nickel . . . copper . . . lead . . . zinc and other metals the war industries need. We have access to the iron. We can make the steel.

We have the organized industries to fabricate these metals and make the trucks, and tanks, and guns, and planes, and the ships.

We have skilled workers and the plants for mass production. Canada has the wheat and the food supplies.

Let us count our blessings, and tighten our belts.

Canada is rich—one of the richest countries per head of population in the world. Let us lend our strength to the utmost of our power. Our national future depends upon Victory.

We must win to live.

THERE WILL BE FURTHER CALLS

There have been many calls upon the people of this country for money since Canada entered the war at the side of Great Britain.

There will be further calls.

Let us face the future unafraid.

Canada can carry the load.

But every Canadian must shoulder his and her share.

This is the most critical hour in our history. Let the future historians say of Canada, as they will say of our Mother Country: "This was their finest hour."

Kidney Acids Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—lie awake and count sheep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys.
 Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and sleeplessness, headache, backache often follow. If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills—for half a century the favorite remedy. 103

PEPPER AND SALT

By FEP

Newmarket girls are annoyed.
 On Saturday evening a dance was held at the military camp.
 Girls from a large Toronto department store and the parliament buildings were invited to attend and bus transportation was provided for them. Newmarket girls were invited to attend and had to walk to the camp. That's why they are annoyed.

With its executive elected and teams decided, the Simcoe Softball League is at the beginning of another season of play. The teams entering the league this year are Newmarket, Richmond Hill, Aurora, the Newmarket military camp and Barrie. It looks like a good league and the local teams will get lots of competition.

The team from the camp will be recruited from the permanent staff and so it will probably stick through the whole season.
 When the camp hockey team dropped out of last winter's town league, interest dropped like a pancake. However, if one of the five teams does happen to drop out it would not hurt the softball league an awful lot.

News that Richmond Hill are back again may surprise many fans who recall the play-offs last year. Richmond Hill considered it got a raw deal in the play-off series with Newmarket. However, time and tempers have gone since then and the Hillers will be in the fight.

Joe Spillette and Charlie Holmes won't be master-minding the Redmen this summer, and the club will miss them like nobody's business. With Charlie as prey and Joe as manager, it was a combination hard to beat.
 Joe was at all times the man of action and enthusiasm and Charlie the diplomat. They did a lot in making the Redmen the most colorful team in the league.

Toast of a college boy: Here's to the pictures on my desk. May they never meet.

Baseball has begun battling its infectious germs into the Newmarket air and the fans are counting the days until the schedules open up in earnest. Many of the hardball players responded to President R. C. Morrison's call for volunteers to help get the new Stuart Scott diamond in shape and were raking the grounds last week.

Some of the hardball players will be missing this year and it is a good time for the young fellows of Newmarket who like the game to get a start in hardball.
 Few of the players are so expert that they have to worry about making bingles. Just leave all that to the managers. They are the fellows that do the most worrying in baseball.

Toronto Leafs are already at the bottom of the heap and the sport wisecracks are starting to tongue-lash them. Even though Toronto is at the bottom, it is still too early to give up the ghost. A little criticism is warranted but too much bad criticism knocks a team's morale to pieces. Lena Blackburne, the Toronto manager, said that while his boys are not champions, they will play good baseball. We can hope he is right.

Mary Osborne, Moss Doane and Dorothy Watson will be missing from the Newmarket girls' softball team this year and there may be others. These three players were among the best on the Newmarket team. The girls will have to fight hard to keep their championship laurels.

Troops at the military camp will appreciate no little the novelty of seeing girls' softball this summer. As entertainment, the ladies put up a very good show.
 Beauty, style, skill and now and then very entertaining squabbles make for a show that is near the top in sport. It is safe to venture the forecast that the stands will be filled whenever the girls play softball.

THE CONTEST STORY

Syl leaned forward to pick up the arrow.

"Don't touch it!" exclaimed

Joe from where he knelt beside the man on the floor in the corner. "Leave it, till we see if we can help this fellow. There may be fingerprints on that arrow, or —," Joe paused, and went on in a whisper, "even poison."

"What do you make of this message, Joe?" said Syl. "It's beyond me."

"It's English," replied Joe.

"But scrambled. It says, 'He got what he deserved. Don't follow.'

What did he deserve? Is he dead? I don't think so. The question is how are we to get help to him, and not get caught in an embarrassing position ourselves? We should bring the police here, to investigate this and to help this poor man, if he really still is alive, but we can hardly go to the police ourselves."

"We could telephone," said

Syl.

"And have them identify our telephone in a moment and flash word to a radio car in the district, and perhaps get us in the drag-net?"

"That's possible. What about accosting a policeman for directions, and putting a message in his pocket?"

"That's feasible," replied Joe.

He pulled a pair of silk gloves from his pocket, put them on, then tore a sheet of paper from a pad on the desk and sat down to write.

"But what if the policeman should pull it out of his pocket right away after we leave him?"

said Syl.

"I intend him to. We'll put it in his whistle pocket and then give him reason to blow his whistle. But to prevent him getting the information too fast

I'll code it."

In a few minutes he had produced this strange-looking message.

"Beamy drummer to 69 Dorchester St. Shur."

What did it say?

CUBS ON HIKE CAPTURE FIVE YOUNG RABBITS

About 25 Wolf Cubs, led by their cubmaster, went on a hike last Saturday afternoon. Scouts Leon. Burch and Bill Revill were first off and laid the trail. The wild cubs soon picked up the first scout as they entered Lewis' bush at the end of Park Ave.

The well-laid trail took the cubs over fields, creeks, fences, up trees, until finally the treasure was found in Alfred Lewis' bush on Huron St. west. Some excitement was caused when the cubs captured five baby rabbits. After much persuasion they let the young bunnies run at large again.

It wasn't long before the fires were going and then out came the frying-pans. Those who passed their fire-lighting test were Don. Thompson, Doug. Cockburn, Ian Brown, Harry Daley, Don. Langton, Don. Blake and Paul Morton.

While the cubmaster and Scouts Don. Brown and Bill Revill had the cubs playing games, Scouts Victor Higginson, Bob McIlroy, Leon. Burch and Clarke Hill were getting staffs for all the cubs. These scouts are doing a splendid job helping out in the cub work. Each scout looks after about eight boys.

Camp was broken up at 5.30 p.m. and the youngsters struck the homeward trail. They arrived home a weary but happy lot.
